MAGAL RECEIVES AN ORDER TO PROTECT AN INTERNATIONAL AIRPORT IN CENTRAL ASIA
March 11, 2008

YAHUD, Israel - March 11, 2008 -- Magal Security Systems, Ltd. (NASDAQ GM: MAGS; TASE: MAGS), today announced that it recently received a 7-digit order for perimeter protection of an international airport in Central Asia.

The order calls for the design, supply and commissioning of the Omnitrax-Buried Cable system and the Intelli-Wave - Microwave Protection System, both controlled by Magal's StarNet 1000 -Security Monitoring and Control System. Omnitrax is Magal's newest buried cable product utilizing unique ranging technology. This allows pinpointing an intruder's location within the accuracy of a few meters.

The order is expected to be completed by the end of the third quarter of 2008.

Mr. Izhar Dekel, CEO of Magal, commented, "Over the years Magal and its subsidiaries have gained significant experience in protecting airports worldwide. This airport in Central Asia joins an outstanding list of dozens of other airports that are already successfully using Magal's products to protect their perimeters."
